SKILLS
Edit

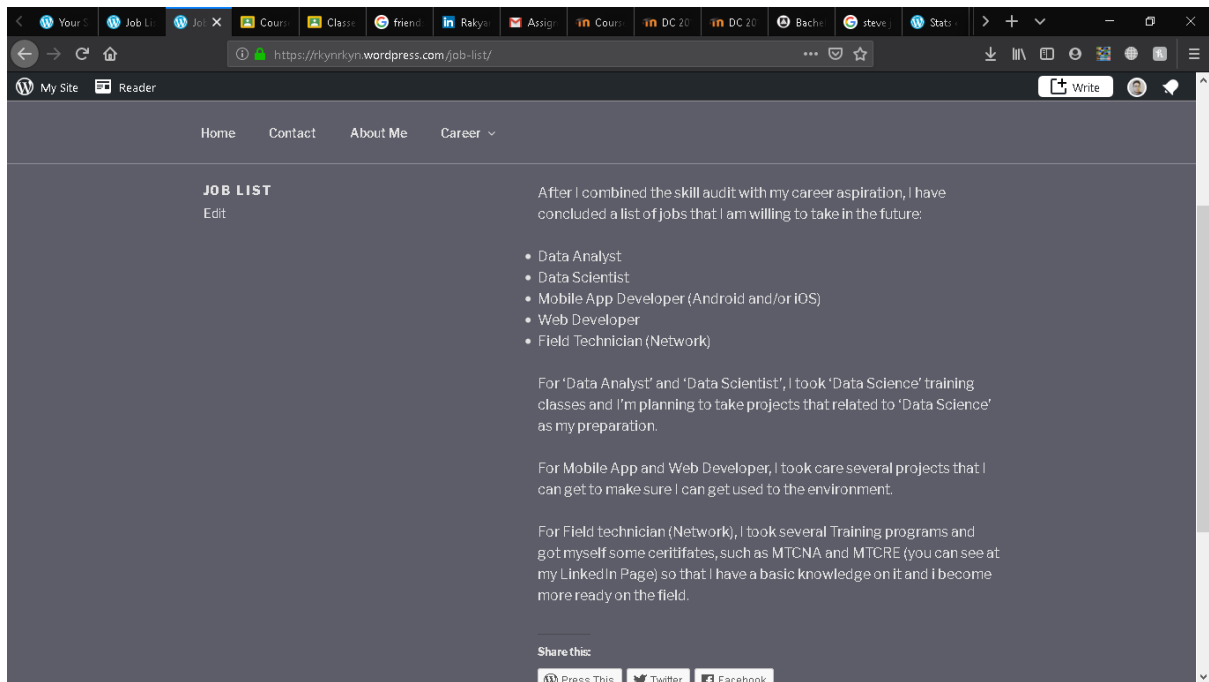

Not only working at Information Technology, studying on that area does require many skills. For instance, people should have the capacity to work together with others as a team when they get teamwork-type of work and they also need to solve any kinds of problems, from small ones to complicated ones, by investigating it thoroughly.

I used DeakinTalent in order to know what skills that I truly enjoy doing and skills that I can capable of doing it in various quality.
